

V. Whitten in Race for Governor

(LITTLE ROCK AP) — Vernon Whitten of Mount Holly filed for governor today as pieces began to fit together in Arkansas' biennial gubernatorial puzzle.

Whitten, a businessman, became the fourth fully qualified candidate by signing pledges and paying his $1,500 filing fee in the secretary of state's office.

Whitten said he was in the race because he was convinced the people want a change in the governor's office.

"They are tired of the same old crowd running our state government," he said.

Whitten, 51, said his campaign would not be primarily anti-Faubus. "But when one man has been in office eight years his tenure has to be one of the main issues," Whitten said.

Whitten said another reason he was in the race was an agreement he made with his sons.

"I agreed that if they would plan to finish school and live and work in Arkansas, I would begin to do everything within my power to help to make Arkansas a more attractive place in which to live and work," Whitten said the agreement was made after he discovered that none of his sons was planning to stay in Arkansas after completion of schooling.

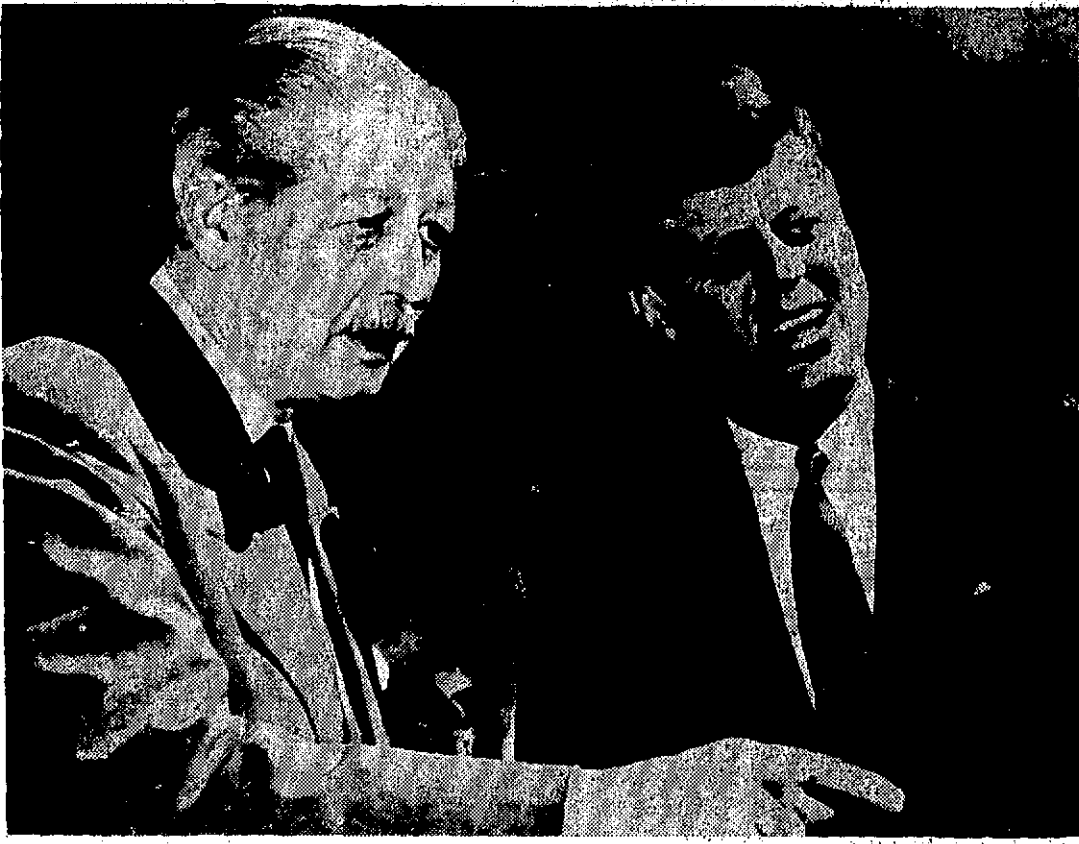

Whitten has four sons — age 20, 19, 17 and 16. He has a daughter who is married and lives in Texas.

Whitten's last try for a major office was in 1950 when he finished second to Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., in a three-man race in the old 7th Congressional District.

Earlier, he had finished second to Harris in a three-man race in 1948.

Whitten said he had supported Faubus in only one race — in 1956. "I voted against him in 1958 and 1960 because I believe no man should be elected to a third term, and certainly not to a fourth term," he said.

Whitten said he had not raised a campaign fund yet. "I hope to conduct a campaign that will attract financial support," he said.

Can't Walk Out on Talk by Castro

HAVANA AP) — Cubans have a warning today against any attempt to walk out on Prime Minister Fidel Castro when he addresses the big May Day rally in Jose Marti Plaza.

"The Communist newspaper Hoy said no one would be allowed to leave the plaza-site of major government sponsored demonstrations—until hearing the last words of the revolution's leader."

Plans went ahead for the show after a weekend that brought the first open antigovernment outburst in Havana in seven months and the dismissal of another official of the Integrated Revolution Organization, Cuba's only legal political body.

Witnesses said about 50 demonstrators unfurled banners demanding the release of political prisoners at a busy Havana corner Saturday night. They had mingled with a crowd assembled for a pop rally in connection with the May Day celebrations.

Police, apparently tipped off, quickly squelched the hostile outburst and rushed some of the demonstrators away.

Lois R. Purtle, 60, Dies in Local Hospital

Miss Lois R. Purtle, aged 60, died Saturday in a local hospital. She was an employee of a nursing home.

Ex-Spring Hill Man Succumbs

Henry Edward Murry, a former resident of the Spring Hill area, died Friday at Marshall, Texas. The body will be returned to Hope for burial by Sullivan Funeral Service of Marshall. Graveside services will be held at 2 p.m. today at Bethany Cemetery. Local arrangements are in charge of Herndon-Cornelius.

Bulletin

The charcoal plant at Bruner-Ivory Handle Co. was destroyed by fire about 1 p. m. today. The charcoal building is separate from the main plant. Local firemen said at 2 p. m. that the building was a complete loss but they thought the fire was under control. There was no estimate as to the loss.

Farm Bureau Women to State Meet

Mrs. Mary Spates, chairman, Mrs. Bettie Duncan, H.D. Agent, Mrs. Audrey Wilson, Mrs. Gertrude Hawkins and Mrs. Monroe Kent, attend the annual Spring Farm Bureau Women's meeting, April 26, at Little Rock's Hotel Lafayette.

"Women's Responsibility in a Changing World" was the topic for Mrs. Lucia Brownell of Birmingham, editor of the Home Department of Progressive Farmer magazine. Storm Whaley of Little Rock, vice president for health service at U of A, spoke on "Arkansas and Its Future."

The Monroe County Farm Bureau ladies gave a fashion show of cotton fashions for the past 100 years. Mrs. William Wilkie, chairman of Arkansas Farm Bureau Women, was presented a certificate by Mrs. Brownell for the "Woman of the Year."

The Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation was host for a lunch in the skyroom of the hotel.

Lonnie Hill, 3, of McCaskill, Dies Monday

Lonnie Bruce Hill, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Barto Hill of McCaskill, died Monday in a Little Rock hospital.

He is also survived by four brothers, Barto, Jr., Jackie Donald, Billy Wayne and Jimmy Hill of McCaskill; three sisters, Mrs. Charles William Fowler of McCaskill, Fay and Carolyn Hill of McCaskill, a half sister, Mrs. John Martindale Duke Jr. of Galveston, Texas.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Marlbrook Baptist Church, officiating assisted by Rev. James Shaddox. Burial will be in Foster Cemetery with the Smith Funeral Home of Stamps, in charge.

Fulbright Gets Foe for Senate Seat

LITTLE ROCK AP) — The Arkansas senatorial primary race appears to pit liberalism versus conservatism with the announced candidacy Saturday of Winston Chandler of Little Rock.

Chandler, a Little Rock trucking firm owner, who labeled himself a "southern conservative" will oppose the incumbent Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

A relative political newcomer, Chandler told a news conference Saturday he has detected an undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the senator in Arkansas.

"The people of Arkansas do not want a man representing them who they feel is more interested in any section of the world than he is in our state and the United States," Chandler said.

Fulbright, asked to comment Sunday on Chandler's candidacy, said he did not know Chandler personally and added, "It's a free country and anyone who

Judge Lyle Brown Seeks Re-election

LITTLE ROCK AP) — Roy Milum of Harrison, dean of the Arkansas Senate, drew an opponent today in his 9th district race.

Ralph Hudson of Harrison, former Boone County Judge, filed against Milum. The district includes Boone, Baxter, Marion, Newton and Seary counties.

Milum has served in the Senate for 34 years, starting in 1923. He missed only the 1945-47 and 1954 sessions since that time.

Other filings today included Circuit Judge Lyle Brown of Hope for reelection in the 8th district. Brown is seeking a third full four year term. The district includes Clark, Hempstead, Lafayette, Miller and Nevada counties. He has no opponent.

E. B. Hoyt of Mountain Home for prosecutor in the 6th district, which includes Baxter, Fulton, Izard, Randolph and Sharp counties. He will oppose the incumbent, W. E. Billingsley of Melbourne.

Harold Hallman of Ben Lomond for state senator in the 6th district, which includes Howard, Little River, Polk and Sevier counties. The incumbent, Sen. Roy Riales of Mena, and Nathan G. Coulter of Nashville already have filed for the post.

H. H. Foster, 87, of Spring Hill, Dies Monday

Henry H. Foster, 87, died at a Hope hospital early this morning. He was a retired merchant and a lifelong resident of Spring Hill.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Louis L. Connell of Hope; one grandson, Rev. Foster Gladwin Connell of Hope; one brother, W. E. Foster of Spring Hill; one sister, Mrs. L. C. Yocom of Spring Hill.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 3 p.m. at Spring Hill Methodist Church. Rev. Rufus Sorrells officiating, assisted by Rev. James Shaddox. Burial will be in Foster Cemetery with the Smith Funeral Home of Stamps, in charge.

Blames Secrecy of Russia for Arms Race

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk warned today the East-West arms race cannot be ended unless and until Soviet Union abandons its obsession on secrecy. He spoke at the opening ministerial session of the Central Treaty Organization (CENTO).

"The Soviet Union has, thus far, been unwilling to agree to an effective treaty banning all nuclear testing," Rusk said. "In the circumstances, the United States has had no choice but to assume its responsibility to look to the common defense and conduct a limited series of atmospheric nuclear tests."

Rusk then added: "Secrecy and disarmament are incompatible."

Rusk assured America's friends in CENTO that the United States would go on working with them to insure the defense and stability of the Middle East against continued threat of Communist aggression.

CENTO consists of Pakistan, Iran, Turkey and Britain. The United States takes part in its work as an associate member. The alliance grew out of the Baghdad Pact.

Pakistan, with the support of Iran and Turkey, has been urging the United States to play a bigger role in Middle East defense, possibly by changing its associate membership to full membership. Those nations also have been pressing for an American general to be commander of the CENTO planning staff, but neither the Americans nor the British like the idea.

Foreign Minister Abbas Aram of Iran urged the United States and Britain to pay greater attention to the economic needs of the regional members of the alliance—mainly by providing more help.

Neither Defense Minister K. M. Sheikh of Pakistan nor Foreign Minister Feridun Cemal Erkin of Turkey in their speeches mentioned a desire for the United States to take a larger role.

Rusk assured the ministers the United States is interested in co-operating with its friends around the globe in preserving common standards and interests.

The U.S. secretary's visit to London is the first of a series that will take him almost around the world.

He goes next to Athens for a meeting of the foreign ministers' council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Then he will fly to Australia to confer with U.S. partners in the Australian New Zealand treaty.

Former Resident of Spring Hill Dies in Texas

Mrs. Gracie Ehrlich, aged 73, a former resident of Spring Hill, died Saturday at the home of a son in Houston, Texas.

She is survived by one son, Joe Ehrlich of Houston; three daughters, Mrs. E. O. Bright of Hope, Mrs. Mozella Wallis of Dallas and Mrs. L. O. Bates of Dallas; two brothers, Hal and Cleve Foster, and a sister, Mrs. L. C. Yocom, all of Hope.

Services were held at 11 a.m. Monday at Lamar-Smith Funeral Chapel in Dallas.

Arguments Heard in School Case

LITTLE ROCK AP) — An attorney for the Little Rock school board told the Arkansas Supreme Court today that if the board had not turned a white school over to Negroes last fall, it is possible an order to integrate all elementary schools might now be in force.

The attorney, Robert Light, made the observation about the integration angle after members of the court questioned him along this line.

The court heard oral arguments today in a suit contesting the board's decision to change the Rightzell school from white to Negro. The school served a racially mixed neighborhood.

The issue in the suit, however, is property values and not integration. Plaintiffs contended the changeover of the school would drastically reduce their property which was assessed at more than $7 million.

U. A. Gentry, attorney for the property owners, said property values had depreciated, "not less than 10 per cent," since the changeover.

Pulaski Chancery court held the school board had a right to change racial status of any school under its jurisdiction.

Light said a reversal of the lower court order would tie the hands of 400 school boards in Arkansas.

Gentry retorted, "Here is a school that belongs to the white people. They paid for it, and 300 white children are being taken out and it is being given to the Negroes. The white people do not have a school in that area."

Little Rock already has desegregated down through the seventh grade. The board has not announced plans to integrate elementary schools, nor is there any existing court order compelling them to move in that direction.

After hearing the oral arguments, the Supreme Court took the case under submission. This means it can hand down a decision as early as next week.

Man Burns to Death in Wreck

FORREST CITY, Ark. AP) — Herman Smith, 35, of West Helena, was burned to death today when his tractor trailer truck overturned and caught fire, about one mile south of here on State Highway 1.

Officers said Smith apparently was trapped in the cab of the Wheeling Pipeline Co. truck. Police said the gasoline tanks on the truck caught fire.

Mrs. Vernon Schooley, aged 57, formerly of Hope, died Saturday at Big Springs, Texas.

She is survived by a son, Blake Schooley of the U. S. Armed Forces in Turkey, one brother, Dale Townemaker of Hope; two sisters, Mrs. D. P. Yeager of San Antonio, Texas and Mrs. Robert Williams of Waldo.

The body has been returned for burial. Arrangements will be announced by Herndon-Cornelius.

Tells Chamber Economy of Nation at Stake

WASHINGTON AP) — President Kennedy told the United States Chamber of Commerce today he wants to see an economy kept stable by the free forces of competition so the government will not need to intervene in the price-setting process.

The President delivered to the chamber's 50th annual meeting a sober appeal for cooperation among business, labor and government. He said this could keep the economy stable, protect the dollar, and expand foreign commerce.

"These areas where conflict exists between private interests and government interest must be met by all of us who care for our country," Kennedy said.

In his first speech to any business organization since he forced the steel industry to withdraw its April price increase — a move widely criticized in industry — Kennedy assured the 4,000 businessmen-delegates and their guests: "We do not seek to set prices."

Instead, he said, the government is trying to develop a climate in which there is cooperation of the several segments of the economy, and in which the free forces of competition will serve to prevent inflation from damaging the dollar and inflating prices to consumers.

Kennedy was greeted with a rising ovation as he entered Constitution Hall, but many of the delegates did not join in the applause.

But he quickly produced laughter with an observation that he was pleased to see that the chamber had chosen for its new president a man from Massachusetts.

Then he added with a smile: "I don't know how widely that view is shared here."

Kennedy complimented the chamber on its 50 years of service, declaring that the establishment of the chamber in 1912 was a turning point in the relationship of government with industry.

"There was more laughter when he added: "And some say the events of this April also marked a turning point." From that reference to the steel-price battle, Kennedy went on to observe that he hoped this April would indeed have been a turning point in the sense that it may have awakened wider knowledge of the necessity for understanding between business, government and labor.

Even though the cheers from chambers of commerce around the country were not overwhelming or deafening when he was elected, Kennedy said, he has been impressed with the cooperation given by business groups ever since when the country has become involved in crises.

Defenders Move Into Touchy Area

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK AP—CBS' "The Defenders" on Saturday night moved into a touchy area with a story about the trial of a dedicated doctor charged with performing abortions—operations illegal in 50 states.

The program was dropped like a hot potato by its three regular sponsors, and was denied air time on a number of CBS affiliates because of its theme. But whether one enjoyed the program, or whether one approved of the doctor, the story certainly raised an issue or two.

The drama asked whether an unmarried girl should have only a choice between bearing an unwanted child or of submitting to an operation which is against the law. To make its point, the program had as one of the doctor's patients a girl who went to him for help after being criminally assaulted by a stranger.

E. G. Marshall as the defense attorney remained almost blandly aloof and neutral as the chips fell. But it was, all in all, a most interesting program, done with good taste and a quiet matter.

"Sixty Hours to the Moon" was an ABC briefing Sunday night on a way planets. Despite the practical statements by the experts some of the study and preparation to put men on the moon and, and a down-to-earth commentary by astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., it's still hard for the post-teenage viewer to believe its all real and not science fiction.

The crime was perfect: the gang took two years to plan the holdup and they got away with almost $3 million. NBC Sunday night, in "The World's Greatest Robbery," showed in great detail how the Brinks robbery in Boston was accomplished. Unfortunately, the meticulous reconstruction was neither as interesting nor fast-moving as some of the cops and robbers shows it inspired.

Next week NBC will show how the crooks finally got caught—which will take another hour.

Consolidation of Two Cities Talked

LITTLE ROCK AP—The group that proved one of the most instrumental in bringing the Little Rock Air Force Base to Pulaski County has undertaken an even more ambitious project—consolidating Little Rock, North Little Rock and Jacksonville into one city with a population of 250,000.

The Pulaski County Citizens Council said it would finance a governmental reorganization project to study the proposal over a period of three to five years.

The council termed the undertaking its "most important and far-reaching."

John P. Matthews, a North Little Rock real estate developer, will head the steering committee that will prepare a reorganization plan.

North Little Rock once was the eighth ward of Little Rock. It separated in 1904. Four previous attempts have been made to rejoin the two cities.

Military law was established in Arkansas by Congress in 1967.

Coming and Going

Martin Fox Jr. left on Sunday April 22 for a business trip to Hartford, Conn. and returned this past weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Howard of Dallas were Thursday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coop while enroute to Hot Springs, Va.

Mrs. McDowell Turner took a group of staff members to a state journalism meeting Friday and Saturday at L.R. Attending were Jan Ellis, Jennifer Cox, Cherry Anderson, John Whittier and Dora Ann King.

Mrs. Martin Fox Jr. and son Tray have been spending the holidays in Hope with Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Fox Sr. and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Farrell in Prescott. She returned to L.R. but Tray remained in Hope for a few days to visit his grandparents.

Joe Maher of Springfield, La., was the overnight guest Thursday of Mrs. C. F. Wiggins and Miss Charlene Wiggins. Weekend guests in the Wiggins home were Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kimbrough and family of Arkadelphia.

Miss Judy Hammons and Miss Fay Neepor, both of L.R., spent the weekend with Mrs. Foy Hammons and Miss Troy Hammons.

Mrs. Norrell Will Not Seek Office

WASHINGTON AP—Rep. Catherine Norrell, (D-Ark.) announced Saturday she would not seek re-election from the 4th District.

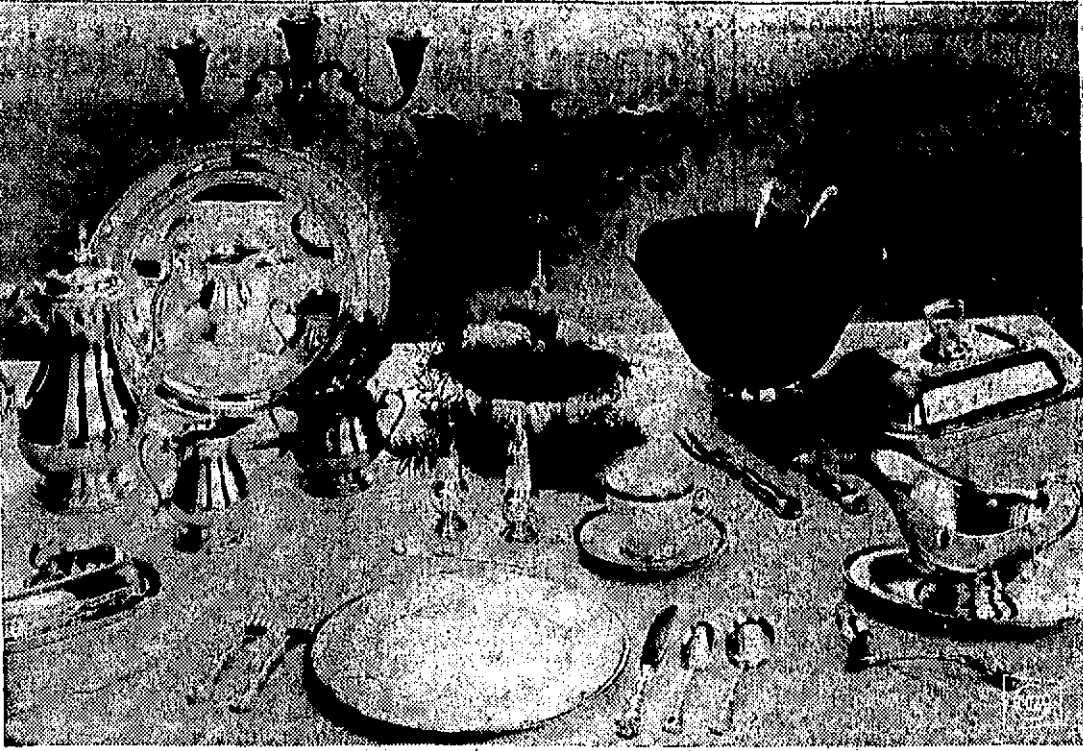

Mrs. Norrell, who was elected to the House a year ago to fill the post formerly held by her husband, the late W. F. Norrell, said only that she would not run, and did not elaborate.

She has been mentioned as a possible choice for appointment as U.S. Treasurer or for some other federal post.

Mrs. Norrell would have faced Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., had she decided to make the race. Their districts generally were combined under a congressional redistricting worked out by the state legislature when Arkansas lost two House seats after the 1960 census.

Harris said he was happy that he had not drawn an opponent, but noted that with the filing deadline two days off, he had better not speak too soon. He is chairman of the House Commerce Committee.

All other incumbent representatives from Arkansas except Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., have announced for reelection. Alford is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

DOROTHY DIX Bachelor Disputes Efficacy of "Playing Hard to Get"

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: To say that your column is a preserve for the petulant of starchy-eyed females is a gross mistake. Here is one male, though very young and a bit starchy-eyed himself, who reads you as regularly as he does the sports page. May I say that I am amazed at your consistently sincere and sympathetic advice to those who ask for it—and even more impressed with its validity.

But may I now, with youth as the only excuse for such unlearned blathering, disagree upon one small segment of advice that has appeared repeatedly in your column? Namely, your answer to those ladies in need of some device by which they might renew a spark in the heart of a male where once had burned a flame. You say, "Play hard to get."

Please, dear Helen, don't mislead girls everywhere. I have been fortunate enough to know several attractive, intelligent girls—and luckier yet to have loved two. The first was strikingly alive. Her intelligence and beauty shook me to the very marrow. Imagine the traumatic experience when, suddenly, she no longer cared for moonlight strolls or candlelight dining in my apartment. I, of course, mistook her indifference for loss of interest and as a gentleman should, vanished quietly. It was nearly a year before I could hear mention of her name.

Meanwhile, I renewed acquaintance with a girl who realized the value of honesty and sincerity in winning her man. From the beginning, she was frank about her feelings and I about mine. To me, she has grown to be something divine—her proverbial wish is my command. It saddened me recently to talk with my first love and hear her tearfully admit her lack of interest was only that of a female being coy.

I shake my head in wonder when I think of the girls I've stopped seeing because they ruined their delightful personalities by "playing hard to get." In a world as rapid as ours, coquettishness ill becomes a charming girl. I honestly believe that to be coy, is to be deceitful, while the world will agree that honesty and sincerity are two of the greatest virtues. —Mike

Dear Mike: If you're as beguiling as your delightful letter I don't wonder your first girl was trying to get you to name the day—for that was precisely her purpose in "playing hard to get." Too bad she overplayed it. The art requires skill and, like anything else, if carried beyond common sense defeats its purpose.

Love wouldn't be the great game it is if women lacked guile. Romance is built upon by-play between hero and heroine. As in all sports, if there is no challenge, there can be no incentive. "Let him chase you, till you catch him," still holds, despite a changing world. My husband agrees but suggests substituting "reserve" for "playing hard to get." He expressed it this way: "There should be a certain amount of reserve on the woman's part if only to give the man a chance to prove he can attain the unattainable. It's no compliment to him if she lets down the bars without a struggle. There is nothing dishonest nor insincere in being reserved. It simply signifies that the girl has spirit and is worth trying for."

Dear Helen: Should a girl of 18 work in a home in another city, care for the children and do the house work? The mother is employed at a bar from three p.m. to three a.m. The father has a daytime job with nine to five p.m. hours. He and his wife pay the girl well. She spends her money foolishly. The latest is that they are giving her a watch and other expensive things and talk of presenting her with a car. We want her to learn a trade and, if she won't go to school, get an apartment. —Worried

Dear Worried: I take it you are the girl's mother. If your daughter insists upon working away from home, it is your duty—even through she is of age, to know the people who employ her. I question the wisdom of an 18-year-old girl being employed by a family in which the wife works at a bar and is gone every night. This is asking for trouble, especially with the husband at home!

Dear Helen: Will you help settle a dispute between my boy friend and me? He has taken to playing cards for money, the limit is two to three dollars a game. He now I don't approve, nevertheless, every time we go to his house he starts a card game. He also makes a beeline for a club where he can gamble, after leaving me, and plays till dawn.

I fear he'll go in for bigger stakes and then, really be sorry. We fight constantly about this. He sees no harm in minor gambling. I think he's wrong all the way. He won't have money enough to take me to a show yet never lacks money to gamble. Am I wrong and he right? —Confused

Dear Confused: You're too close to the woods to see the trees. Gambling in itself isn't wrong, unless done to excess. Life itself, is a gamble.

Men gamble in stocks every day and nobody thinks anything of it. Approach your problem from a realistic, rather than a moral point of view. Advise your boy friend to steer clear of card playing for money unless he's a card shark. But one thing is for sure; he'll be gone forever, if you try to reform him.

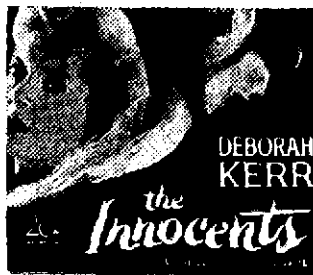

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "The Way To a Boy's Heart."

Vote Measure to Be Taken Up in House

WASHINGTON AP—The House knuckles down to work today after a 10-day Easter vacation, while the Senate plods along with its debate over a bill to prevent racial discrimination in voter literacy tests.

No major bills were ticketed for immediate consideration in the House, but before the end of the week leaders hope to bring up a bill urged by President Kennedy to set up a private corporation to own and operate a communications satellite system.

Before the week ends Senate leaders reportedly plan to initiate Papa was flying from Jacksonville, Fla. on a training flight from LeMoore Naval Air Station in California. The trouble occurred in an intense electrical storm, Papa said.

the debate that began last Wednesday on the voter literacy bill—the administration's principal civil rights measure.

The bill, strongly opposed by its Southern foes, would exempt anyone with a 6th-grade education from having to take a state literacy test to qualify as a voter in presidential and congressional elections.

The first step in invoking the Senate's anti-filibuster rule is filing of a cloture—or debate limitation—petition signed by 16 senators.

Once such a petition is filed, it automatically is put to a vote one hour after the Senate meets on the second day thereafter. Its adoption requires a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

A two-thirds majority never has been obtained for breaking a filibuster against a civil rights bill, but party leaders say they may have a better chance this time since the 1960 Democratic and Republican platforms called for a literacy test measure.

Probes Estes Deals

WASHINGTON AP—More men are to be assigned to an investigation of scandals linking the name of Texas financier Billie Sol Estes with some Agriculture Department employees, Sen. John L. Musial Gets 5 for 6, Cards Split Pair

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It should have happened in Brooklyn. The Mets-Phillies game that is, Dizzy as the Dodgers at their daffiest. The only thing lacking was Casey Stengel letting a snarrow out of his cap.

That was the first inning of the New York Mets' first game with Philadelphia Sunday. New York got seven runs on four hits, two hit batters, a wild pitch, two errors, a stolen base, a sacrifice fly and some incredible Philadelphia play at all.

It put the Mets off and winging to an 8-0 triumph that extended their winning string to two. The $30,000 Texas Open three years in a row when the Phillies bombed Casey's boys 10-2.

In a more sober affair at St. Louis, San Musial went 5-for-6, with two homers as St. Louis split with Cincinnati, the Cards taking the first 16-3, the Reds the second 4-3. In San Francisco, Jack Sanford and Billy Pierce had three-hit shutouts as the Giants swept two from Chicago, 7-0 and 6-0. In Los Angeles, Pittsburgh regained the top spot with a sweep against the Dodgers, 6-1 and 1-0. In Houston, Roman Mejias' ninth inning homer brought the Colts a 3-2 decision over Milwaukee.

In the American League, New York beat Washington twice, 3-2 and 11-6. Minnesota took two from Cleveland, 3-4 and 7-3. Chicago won a couple from Boston, 2-1 and 5-1. Detroit out-slugged Los Angeles 13-6 and Baltimore stopped Kansas City 8-3.

The Mets' fourth inning was a weird as a Russian novel. It featured, among other things, the Mets putting two runners on third at the same time.

When it was over, the Mets had seven runs and rookie Al Jackson, who spaced eight hits, had his first victory. Home runs by Tony Gonzalez, Don Demeter and Wes Covington featured the injured Phils 14-hit attack off four New York pitchers in the second game. Bobby Locke, who allowed only one hit over 4 2/3 innings, got the victory in relief.

Vida Pinson and Gorty Coleman of the Reds and Musial socked home runs in each game at St. Louis. Musial's big day, boosted his average to .386. The Cardinals loss and the sweeps by Pittsburgh and San Francisco dropped St. Louis from first to third.

Pittsburgh took over first on the pitching of Bob Friend (4-1) and Al McBean (3-0). Friend threw a four-hitter at the Dodgers in the first and McBean shut them out on seven hits in the second. Ed Bailey's home run and three San Francisco double plays supported Pierce's three-hitter against the Cubs. Willie Mays crashed his sixth homer of the season with a man on base, all the working room Sanford needed in his opening three-hitter.

Mejias' fourth homer of the season broke a 2-2 tie and won it in the bottom of the ninth for the Colts. Hal Smith and Jim Pendleton also had homers for the winners, and Frank Bolling got one for the Braves. Dick Farrell, who faced only one man after relieving starter Hal Woodeschick in the ninth, got the victory.

Palmer Wins 3rd Straight Texas Open

By Harold V. RATLIFF

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer slammed a 7-iron 170 yards within 18 inches of the cup on the 10th hole in another of his dramatic finishes Sunday.

He sank the birdie putt and became the first man to win the $30,000 Texas Open three years in a row.

It was Palmer's third birdie on the four closing holes and it gave him a four-under-par 67 and 273 for 72 holes for a one-stroke triumph.

Palmer won his greatest victory by coming from behind and the huge crowd on the 18th green sensed he had won although two mightily contenders for the title—Gene Litter and Joe Campbell—were yet to come in.

Palmer won his fourth tournament of the year and ran his money earnings to $41,308.33.

Litter, the National Open champion, who had taken a two-stroke lead for 63 holes, faded on the incoming nine and wound up in a tie for second with Campbell.

Doug Sanders and Mason Rudolph. Litter had a 69, Campbell 70, Sanders 69 and Rudolph a 67 on the final 18. All ended up with 274 for 72 holes.

Palmer, who took down first money of $4,300, has won 30 tournaments in his 7 1/2-years career.

Central Wins Track Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Little Rock Central won the Warrior Relays here Saturday with 77 1/2 points—34 points more than second-place Hall High, the host team.

Hall scored 43 1/2 in the meet. North Little Rock compiled 25 1/2 and Pine Bluff brought up the rear with 16.

Drake Relays Has Nothing Startling

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—A controversy over the finish was the only noteworthy result of the heralded 100-yard dash finals in the Drake Relays.

A fleet field headed by Bob Hayes of Florida A&M, who has run the 100 in 9.2 seconds, was expected to make the sprint a feature of the 53rd annual track and field classic last Saturday, and possibly threaten the world record.

The only agreement among coaches and fans after the finish was that Hayes won and that his time of 9.5 seconds was far from spectacular.

Particularly upset about the judges' delayed decision on the other placings in the close finish was Nebraska coach Frank Sevigne. His ace sprinter, Ray Knaub, wasn't included among the top five finishers after winning the Texas and Kansas Relays titles in the sprint.

Nate Adams of Purdue was first listed as fourth but later was given second place dropping Roger Sayers of Omaha from second to third. Both were given times of 9.6 seconds.

A rain-soaked track and 45-degree temperature were blamed for the lack of records Saturday, with only Missouri shotputter Don Smith and Texas Southern's spring medley team lowering Drake standards.

Smith completed a sweep of the Texas-Kansas Drake titles with a record shot put of 57 feet 11 inches.

Texas Southern, which had set two relay records on Friday, cut the sprint medley mark to 3:21.2 Saturday.

Homers Help Yankees Win Doubleheader

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boon! Boon! Boon! It looked like the Fourth of July the way those baseballs were being shot out of American League parks Sunday.

A record-tying total of 27 home runs were belted by 23 swat-smiths from the junior circuit, including six solo home runs in one game by the Minnesota Twins, which equalled another league record.

Including the 22 homers welcomed by the National League, the majors had a grand total of 49, just one shy of the record set by the two leagues on May 30, 1956. The American League mark of 27 was set on May 28, 1961.

Three home runs — by Roger Maris, Cletis Boyer and Bill Skowron — helped the New York Yankees sweep a doubleheader from Washington 3-2 and 11-6, and boosted them into first place, a half-game in front of Chicago.

The White Sox hit only one homer in their 2-1 and 5-1 twin bill sweep over Boston's Red Sox but that homer, by rookie Mike Herschberger, accounted for the winning run in the opener.

Minnesota, held homerless in its 8-4 first game victory over Cleveland, went on a six-homer binge, two by Johnny Goryl, to grab the second game, too, 7-3. The defeats dropped the Indians from first to third, a game behind the leaders.

Detroit defeated Los Angeles 13-6 in a slugfest that featured six home runs, four by the Tigers. Baltimore also had four homers, in downing Kansas City 8-3.

Pittsburgh regained first place in the National League, winning two games from Los Angeles 6-1 and 1-0. San Francisco advanced past St. Louis into second place with a 7-0 and 6-0 double shutout over the Chicago Cubs.

The Cards whipped Cincinnati 16-3 but the Reds came back to take the second game 4-3. New York and Philadelphia also divided a doubleheader. The Mets won the opener 8-0 and the Phils took the second game 10-2. Houston nipped Milwaukee 3-2.

Whitely Ford won his second game for the Yankees, going the route in the opener with a seven-hitter. It was his 160th lifetime victory against 63 defeats for a .7174 percentage, top winning average of all pitchers with more than 100 victories.

Early Wynn, 42 year old White Sox right-hander, pitched a three-hitter in the nightcap for a Chicago sweep of the four-game series with Boston. It was Wynn's first triumph since last July and the 29th of his career.

Singles by pinch hitter Harmon Killebrew and Bill Tuttle featured a four-run rally by Minnesota in the eighth inning to break up a 4-4 tie with Cleveland in the opener. Tuttle had three hits in the second game including a home run. Other Minnesota home run hitters, besides Goryl, were Zoilo Versalles, Lenny Green and Don Mincher.

The Tigers had two big innings — seven runs in the third and five in the fifth — against the Angels as Al Kaline, Dick Brown, Billy Bruton and Jake Wood homered.

Little Albie Pearson had three consecutive doubles for the Angels, giving him six straight extra base hits in two games and tying a record held by several players.

Baltimore scored six runs in the seventh to overcome a 3-2 Kansas City lead. Russ Snyder opened the inning with a pinch homer. Jim Gentile also homered in the inning, his second of the game.

Henderson Scores a Narrow Win

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Raymond Cheatam scored 17 points to lead Henderson to a narrow victory here Saturday over six other teams in the college division of the Harding Invitational Track meet.

Henderson scored 47 points, followed by Arkansas A&M with 46, Oklahoma Christian College 41, Harding 18 1/2, Arkansas State 11, Oklahoma City University freshmen 10 and John Brown University 2 1/2.

The high school division, which included 11 teams, was easily won by Benton.

Cheatam chopped one-tenth second in winning the 440 in 50.2. He also won the 100-yard dash, the 220 and was on the winning 440 relay team.

Benton's Robert Homan scored 15 points, including breaking the broad jump record with a leap of 21 feet, 1 1/2 inches. The old mark was 20 feet, 10 inches.

Benton scored 69 points, Helena 20 1/2, Little Rock Central B 22, Searcy 21, McCrory 7, Harding Academy 5 1/2, Bastrop, La., 5, Heber Springs and Judsonia 3 1/2, Augusta 2 1/2 and Atkins 1.

Kentucky Derby Set Saturday

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Owners and trainers with 3-year-olds eligible for Saturday's Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs apparently don't scare easily—even in face of recent eye-popping performances by Sir Gaylord and Riddan.

Sir Gaylord, unbeaten in four starts this year, and Riddan, all-winning last year and not far off that pace this season, stand out. Still as many as 15 horses are expected to start in the 1-mile $25,000-added blue ribbon turf classic.

The latest issue of the future book odds from Caliente quoted Sir Gaylord the 7-5 choice with Riddan held at 2-1.

Riddan, beaten twice in Florida by Sir Gaylord before the latter was sidelined by an ankle injury late in February, won the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland last Thursday in 1:47 3/5 one and one-eighth miles. He then finished out the derby distance in:01, two-fifths of a second faster than the derby record hung up by Whirlaway in 1941.

Sir Gaylord, making his first appearance since winning the Everglades at Hialeah Park, reeled off seven furlongs in 1:22 2-5 Saturday in taking the Stepping Stone Purse on the slower Churchill Downs track. He proceeded to work out the derby distance in 2:02 2-5.

Off the two displays of speed and stamina, the 88th run for the roses shapes up as a two-horse race.

Still there are more than a dozen horses on the ground whose trainers and owners say they are here to run in the derby.

The group includes Townsend B. Martin's speedy but unpredictable Sunrise County, Fred Hooper's Admiral's Voyage, Fred Turner's Sir Ribot, Neil S. McCarthy's Royal Attack, Verne Winchell's Donut King, Peter Salmon Sr.'s Grimsom Satan, L. C. Sternberger's Doc Jockey, Robert

Pole Vault Champ After 17 Ft. Mark

WALNUT, Calif. (AP)—A world record of 16 feet, 2 inches in the pole vault was on its way toward official recognition today and the owner, Marine Lt. Dave Tork, has an even loftier target.

"I hope to hit 7 feet," the 27-year-old leatherneck from Camp Pendleton declared.

Relatively unknown until recently in track and field circles, the slender 6-foot Marine eclipsed all official and unofficial marks in the annual Mt. San Antonio Relays two days ago.

Other highlights of the relays: Jim Grelle, a graduate of the University of Oregon's great school of distance runners, joined the somewhat crowded sub-four-minute-mile club. He barely made it with a clocking of 3:59.9 to become the fourth American and the 30th man to run under four minutes.

Two-time Olympic champion Al Oerter threw the discus 198 feet 6 inches. He missed the world record by 8 1/2 inches as he and the record holder, Jay Silvester, staged a tremendous duel. Silvester's world mark is 199-2 1/2.

Meet director Hilmer Lodge said everything is in order as far as he knows for record application on Tork's mighty leap.

Still on the books, and looking rather insignificant, is the 15-9/4 height set by Don Bragg in 1900.

Lehman's Pregl T. A. Grissom's Roman Line and Joe W. Brown's Green Hornet.

Then there is Cicada, a top-flight filly and stablemate of Sir Gaylord. She won the Oaks prep Saturday at Churchill in even faster time than Sir Gaylord's in the Stepping Stone, going the seven furlongs in 1:22 1-5.

Razorbacks Return to Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. AP)—Coach Frank Broyles took the last day of his Easter vacation Saturday, but took time off to level a blast at the 1962 football rule that allows the kicking team to down its own punt inside the opposition's 10-yard line. He also commented on the prospects of his Razorbacks.

Broyles said he thinks the new rule will hurt the underdog and would cause fewer upsets.

"The best team will have field position more often," he said. "They'll keep pounding away until they score."

Before the 1962 rule change, there was a penalty for dowing a punt inside the 10. The receiving team, therefore, let the ball roll across the goal without attempting to catch it and run it back.

Broyles said that in the past, the best team would move the ball to the 30 or 35 and then punt. The receivers would let the ball roll over the goal and automatically get it out on the 20.

"They usually can run it out to at least the 25, Broyles said, and then punt 35 yards. This placed the favorites back on their own 35 and they had lost all they had gained.

Now, as Broyles sees it, the favorites won't try to kick over the goal at all. A small kick just inside the 50 could force the underdogs to punt from their own end zone.

"They'll have to protect the kicker longer in the end zone and can't get as good coverage down field," Broyles said. "So the favorites will start again on the underdogs' 35 or so, and put on the pressure again."

"And they'll keep up the pressure until they score," Broyles said. "The underdogs won't have a chance."

Commenting on the Razorbacks, Broyles said they would return to fundamentals with the resumption of spring practice today.

He said it appears that quarterback Freddy Marshall definitely was out of spring practice. He said Marshall, who was injured before the Easter holidays, had his leg in a cast.

This means Marshall probably will miss both Red-White games, one here Saturday and the other May 12 at Little Rock.

Nobel Prize Winners Visit White House

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON AP)—President Kennedy toasted his 173 dinner guests—Nobel Prize winners and men and women of letters—as the most extraordinary collection of talent ever gathered at the White House.

He called them all together Sunday night—a potpourri of the famed—to honor the Nobel Prize winners of the Western Hemisphere.

The 49 Nobel winners on hand for the biggest dinner held at the White House in modern times greeted each other with delight. They said no one before had ever thought to bring so many of them together at once.

In gay, good humor, some started after dinner waltzing in the north entrance hallway where Air Force musicians were playing.

One of the first to take a turn in black tie on the marble floor was Dr. Linus C. Pauling, Nobel Prize winning chemist who only hours before was picketing the White House in the rain with a group protesting resumption of U.S. nuclear air tests.

Dancing usually is confined to the East ballroom. Mrs. Kennedy, looking on with amusement at the impromptu display, declared it was a good idea and said, "We'll have to do this again."

Many of the guests—famed in fields from physics to peace—stopped the President and his wife to ask for autographs on their engraved dinner menus.

There were some who had never before set foot in the White House. There was astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., only recently feted there as the nation's hero—the first American to orbit the earth.

The President, raising his glass in a champagne toast, told his guests that the dinner party in a sense was an attempt to recognize two very basic drives and pressures in our lives—"the pursuit of knowledge and the pursuit of peace."

He said he hoped it would encourage young people in America and in this hemisphere to develop these drives.

Nothing that the Nobel Prize was awarded without regard to nationality, Kennedy declared "this hemisphere has been able to develop an atmosphere which has permitted the happy pursuit of knowledge, and of peace."

Kennedy started his toast with a touch of humor. He reported that Nobel peace prize winner Lester Pearson of Canada had informed him a Canadian newspaperman referred to the dinner as "the President's Easter egghead roll on the White House lawn."

"I want to deny this," said the President.

When he called it the most extraordinary gathering of talent at the White House, Kennedy added

Moves 400 Miles to Save Time

LONDON AP)—John Wheatley has moved 400 miles away to Scotland so that he can get to work in London quicker.

Wheatley, a senior pilot for British Overseas Airways, used to take two hours to drive the 35 miles of crowded roads from his suburban home to London Airport.

He moved to the village of Mianens in Ayrshire and now drives 15 miles to Prestwick Airport. There he catches a flight to London Airport. His total traveling time is 75 minutes—a saving of 45 minutes.

Freedom Rides

LITTLE ROCK AP)—The Board of Directors of the Capital Citizens Council is expected to discuss the possibility of organizing Freedom Rides North from Little Rock at a closed meeting Tuesday. Amos Guthridge, president of the Little Rock group, said George Singleman would explain the rides to the directors. Singleman organized the rides from New Orleans. Guthridge said the council would issue a statement after the meeting.

Violence Claims 11 in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas escaped without recording a violent death Sunday, but during the week ended last midnight, 11 persons lost their lives in the state.

Three persons were killed in a two-car collision south of Fayetteville Saturday. Five others lost their lives on the highways during the week.

Fire accounted for one death and two others drowned.

Chambers Cited

WASHINGTON AP)—The United States Chamber of Commerce cited two Arkansas chambers for awards Saturday. A fire safety program won an award for cities having 20,000 or under population for the Springdale Chamber of Commerce, and the Texarkana Chamber was awarded cities in the 50,000 to 100,000 class cited for their programs of work.

THE LAW... WELLSPRING OF LIBERTY

MAGNA CARTA

In the year 1215 King John of England before Archbishop Langton and twenty-five Feudal Barons caused his Great Seal to be affixed to a charter of law and liberties: Magna Carta.

—and an oppressed people received: "The right of every man to be...secure...of what the law promised."

Our colonists brought its principles to America and many are embodied in our Constitution: Right of trial by jury, protection against illegal imprisonment, guarantee that no person can be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law.

Law is the golden thread which binds our free society together. Equal justice under law is an American tradition. Today, seven and a half centuries after Magna Carta, preserving human freedom and justice under the rule of law is the great challenge of our time.

On May 1, 1962, the American people will observe Law Day USA, by Act of the Congress of the United States and official proclamation of the President. It is a day set aside for rededication to the rule of law and for "the cultivation of that respect for law which is so vital to the democratic way of life." We urge all citizens of this community to join in supporting these worthy objectives.

This message is published as a public service in recognition of the nationwide observance of Law Day USA on May 1.

CHAPTER I

The first time I saw her she was using one hand to hold the tall-stemmed glass which was directly under an extremely elegant nose.

A couple of other things also entered into the picture. One was an expensive yellow cotton frock, which fitted on the principle of a one-piece swim suit, and the other was hair no less confined or spectacular than a running fire.

I just happened to have taken the single empty stool next to hers. George brought me a martini. His glance said he didn't know any more about it than the rest of us. George and I were neighbors and fellow tradesmen, in a manner of speaking.

Now she was staring across the blue space at her other self. Her lips moved. "If I," she said, "if I only..." Her words were scarcely above a whisper, and it was obvious that she did not realize she had spoken aloud.

"Her next lifting routine finished the drink. She replaced the empty glass in the center of the napkin. Then, as solemn as a bloody owl, she turned and stared at the man on her left.

"Hello there," Jim Cavanaugh said. His smile was as ready-made as one of the sports coats in his H.M. Custom Shoppe.

She turned her head slowly, half around again like that wise old bird, and regarded me. In the smoky light of the bar her eyes were enormously dark and her pale, creamy skin was cool, with the only touch of color, as dark as wild cherries, in the full curve of her lips.

Her words were very carefully spaced. "You have a nice face," she said. "I like your face. It doesn't impose."

"I'm not very imposing," I said lamely.

She nodded. "But you're important."

"Hardly."

"Yes, you are." She reached and put a hand on my sleeve.

"Oh brother!" I thought. I should have thought a lot more.

"Please," she said, "will you take me home?" I said off my stool and held out my hand. She needed it, although she was working hard on keeping steady. When we were standing side by side she took my arm.

"Rick," George called. I glanced over my shoulder. "The lady's purse," he said.

As I went to work opening her bag, her eyes slipped open. "What are you doing?"

His expression was bland. I reached and took it from the bar.

"Good night," we said, when we went by Cavanaugh's stool he said, "Some people have all the luck."

"I don't like him," she said to me.

I had been inclined to agree for the last couple of years.

Macmillan, President End Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON AP) — President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan appear to be broadening their joint approach to summit diplomacy in a move toward more informal contacts with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

This seems to be one of the chief results of the weekend White House conference between the American and British leaders.

Another reported result is agreement to soften as far as possible U.S. and British conflicts of interest over reshaping worldwide trade patterns on Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

Is a communique Sunday Kennedy and Macmillan blamed the Soviet Union for the current series of U.S. nuclear weapons tests and pledged to work for disarmament and a ban on testing. The criticism of the Soviet Union was muted and indirect and apparently reflected a desire by Kennedy and Macmillan to keep on good terms with Khrushchev.

The summit maneuver presumably reflects the same attitude and is pointed toward future weeks rather than an immediate heads of government meeting. In fact it was learned that one objective Kennedy and Macmillan have in mind is to establish a pattern of talking with Khrushchev occasionally without having to have a big formal conference.

"They think it should be possible," one well-informed diplomat explained, "to have more flexibility in summit diplomacy—to get together from time to time without having a huge international circus."

British information denied that Macmillan has any plan to rush off to Moscow and British and American officials both said the present moment is not ripe for summery. The statement did, however, open the door to new possibilities—a series of top-level East-West talks, involving two, three, or four men depending on the nature of the problem. Khrushchev's reaction will be watched with interest.

ease U.S.-British terms in several respects. It declared readiness to ease U.S.-British terms in several respects. It declared readiness to consider a number of meetings with Khrushchev. The only stated condition was that there should be an indication that the meetings would "serve the interests of peace and understanding."

Macmillan left here hailing British-American partnership in the Common Market.

The Allied leaders reportedly found the Common Market problem a worrisome but not explosive bone of contention between them and they agreed to keep the trouble within bounds as the issues become more difficult.

Oklahomans to Pick Nominees

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. AP) —Republicans and Democrats in Oklahoma will select nominees for governor, one U.S. Senate seat, Congress, the state legislature and state offices in primary elections Tuesday.

Henry Bellmon, a wheat farmer from Red Rock, is expected to win the Republican nomination for governor. Five major candidates seek the Democratic nomination.

Unless one candidate gets a majority, the two top vote getters in each race will meet in a runoff May 22.

Top contenders for the Democratic gubernatorial nominations are former Gov. Raymond Gary, U.S. Gov. George Night, State Sen. Fred Harris, W. P. Bill Atkinson of Midwest City and Preston Moore of Stillwater.

Gov. J. Howard Edmondson, a Democrat, cannot succeed himself under state law.

Sen. Mike Monroney is expected to win the Democratic nomination for a third term.

About 550,000 Oklahomans are expected to vote.

U. S. Justice Is Visitor to Arkansas

PONCA, Ark. AP) — A robust United States Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, at home in the wilds of the world, turned to north Arkansas Sunday for three days of fishing on the scenic Buffalo River.

Douglas, accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hedges of Kansas City and Ray Hedges, outdoor editor of the Kansas City Star, immediately jumped into the Buffalo River.

Hedges is president of the Ozark Wilderness Waterways Club. Describing the free-flowing Buffalo as a "unique stream," Douglas urged that no dam hinder its course.

The 3-year-old associate justice, and avid outdoorsman and conservationist, expressed doubt that the Buffalo was really needed as a source for hydroelectric power.

He noted that many of the nation's hydroelectric power facilities currently aren't operating at full capacity.

"When you get a bureaucracy started like the Corps of Engineers," Douglas commented, "it's hard to stop them. They just keep on going."

Outdoor recreational facilities, the justice observed, will be a must in the future.

"Today, we work a 40-hour week. In the next generation this will be down to a four-day week."

"The people of America will need something besides beer and television," he said.

Douglas, who has climbed mountains in Iran and camped out in the Australian back country, noted that his interest in the outdoors stemmed from a bout with polio when he was a youngster of six.

"I began to take long hikes then. I used to walk terrifically long distances . . . and by the time I was 16 or 17, I was well again," he said.

At the conclusion of the 10-mile canoe trip down the Buffalo, Douglas flies to Kansas City to address the Kansas City Bar Association Tuesday night.

Douglas has been on the Supreme Court bench since 1939 when he was appointed by the late Pres. Franklin Roosevelt.

Guard Unit Fights to Keep Alive

JONESBORO, Ark. AP) — The largest National Guard unit in Arkansas, the 875th Engineer Battalion, launched a drive here Sunday aimed at defeating legislation to cutback the guard.

The 875th, commanded by Lt. Col. Frank Angelo, has 495 officers and men at Jonesboro and 125 at Stuttgart.

The unit met Sunday and agreed on a letter writing campaign in protest of a bill currently before the Senate which would sharply reduce the strength of the National Guard.

Mayors of Jonesboro and Stuttgart attended the Sunday meeting and heard Angelo urge civilians as well as guardsmen to protest to their congressmen the pending cutback.

The bill comes before the Senate for action Thursday.

Angelo noted that in Jonesboro the unit spends approximately half a million dollars annually.

He said a $430,000 armory was put into operation on the Arkansas State College campus recently while Stuttgart has a $250,000 armory.

Angelo said he is opposed to the demobilization plan because in the event of attack, units such as the 875th would be needed in rebuilding the country.

Fifty men in the unit are permanent Army personnel, Angelo said.

Woman Free of Blame in Girl's Death

JONESBORO, Ark. AP) — Mrs. Mary Lou Henson, charged with second degree murder in the death of her 19 month old stepdaughter, was acquitted here Saturday.

An all male Craighead Circuit Court jury deliberated only 27 minutes before returning its verdict.

The 19 year old housewife was accused of inflicting blows that led to the child's death on New Years Eve, 1960. She contended in this trial and in her first trial last January the death was due to a fall down a flight of stairs at her apartment here.

Her first trial ended in a hung jury.

Mrs. Henson had been held in the Craighead County jail since last November when she returned from military service.

Her first trial ended in a hung jury.

Intervention in Steel by U. S. Rapped

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON AP) — The United States Chamber of Commerce was urged today to fight for the freedom of both business and labor to "make their own decisions without government intervention."

In a speech prepared for delivery just after President Kennedy's scheduled appearance on the same platform, Chamber President Richard Wagner defended the steel price increase which Kennedy forced steel firms to cancel 2 1/2 weeks ago.

Wagner, a Chicago oilman, de plored and denied the mistaken impression—which he said many people gained from the dramatic steel price struggle—that inflationary pressures are fostered by industry's so-called greedy desire for profit.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Wagner told about 4,000 delegates at the opening session of the chamber's 50th annual meeting. "Steel had already been subjected to three increases in wage costs as well as increases in other costs without an increase in price."

The chamber president declared that some of the constitutional checks and balances of the power of the executive have eroded with the years. He said further erosion could lead to "dictatorship or personal government."

Kennedy's speech to the nation's biggest business organization was his first appearance before a business audience since he forced the country's major steel producers to withdraw their $6 a ton price increase.

The address was awaited with vast curiosity by the chamber delegates.

Wagner, chairman of the executive committee of Champlain Oil & Refining Co., told the delegates in his keynote address that business, in seeking to preserve the curbs on executive power, should not resort to name-calling and should work closely with government in the many fields in which there are common interests.

Wagner told the delegates that "the two culprits slowing down America's growth are first, high

APA's New Manager

LITTLE ROCK AP) — Mrs. S. W. Bowker of North Little Rock, assistant secretary-manager of the Arkansas Press Association for four years, has been elevated to the association's secretary-manager spot. Mrs. Bowker replaces Jerry Russell, who resigned April 20 to join a home building firm. Mrs. Bowker's appointment was announced Saturday.

Tech Finishes 8th

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. AP) —Arkansas Tech finished eighth in the first National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics bowl ing championship here Saturday. Ganonn College, Erie, Pa., won the event by defeating Central Oklahoma State by 59 pins.
